MODEL WORLD

profile

TMW is aimed at all those who build and collect truck and construction models, truck enthusiasts, and the road transport and construction industries.

Whereas there are specialist titles covering radio control models and diecast collecting, TMW is the only magazine to cover all aspects of this hobby. It has an international readership, and actively encourages reader contributions, leading to a strong sense of ownership and loyalty by readers.

TMW covers scratchbuilding; plastic, resin and metal kit building and conversions; diecast collecting; radio controlled truck models; plant and construction equipment; practical articles with hints, tips and techniques; technical data, drawings, plans and photographs; painting and finishing; model show reports from the UK and around the world.

Regular features include: Readers' Gallery, Letters and helpline; events diary; new model and accessory releases; industry news, plus kit reviews, scratchbuilding and conversion articles and a dedicated online forum, adding a new dimension to TMW, allowing readers around the world to seek advice 24/7 and to extend TMW's branding and readership worldwide.

TMW's Editor is Peter White. As well as editing TMW since Issue One, he also contributes to a major trucking magazine in the UK, and has won many national and international awards for his own truck models. Other contributors include professional model builders, and of course, readers themselves.
